KENOSHA HAS "GAS" DRIVEN TRAIN FIRM
 Janesville stockholders in the Winther Motors company, Kenosha, now in financial difficulties, are watching with interest the organization of a $250,000 corporation there for the manufacture of gasoline driven trucks. The new firm is known as the E. S. Ryke company and would help the Winther company in that it would probably give the latter its contracts for automobile equipment. It is possible the new firm may buy out the Winther plant. Martin P. Winther is among those associated with Ryke in the new company.

CHANGES IN BILLS AT LOCAL THEATERS

Changes in theater bills will occur on the usual days this week, and the following are the pictures and other features the week-end will see.

Devery—Audience were interested at the Beverly Wednesday night, in seeing Dorothy Davisport play the leading role in a strong drama, "Every Woman's Problem," chiefly because she is the widow of Wallace Reid. The program is a double bill, the other picture being "Why Announce Your Marriage?" starring Elaine Hammerstein with Niles Welsh playing with her. The Friday and Saturday bill will be "Smudge," a newspaper story with Charles Ray, and the continuation of the "Pearl White" serial, "Blunder." Another new bill will start Sunday with "The Beautiful and Damned."

Mystery—Notority will be seen at the Myers for the last time Thursday night, and will give war on Friday at "Missing Millions" and the week-end vaudeville. "Notority" gives the story of the girl of the ten o'clock who wished to be talked about and could not force the consequences of becoming notorious.

"Missing Millions" is a Boston Blackie story dealing in international crime, a theft of an immense amount of money. David Powell, is Blackie while Alice Brady plays the part of Mary.

Apollon—Good-sized audiences are seeing Bert Smith's flagline Wonders playing every afternoon and night at the Apollon. It is a musical comedy company and is on Thursday playing "The Time, the Place and the Girl," which will be changed on Friday for "Little Miss Mix-Up." On Friday night the company will do their make-up on the stage for the enlightenment of the audience. Another change will be made Sunday for the last day.

Majestic—Over the Border, with Betty Compton and Tom Moore, plays at the Majestic for the last time Thursday night. The Friday and Saturday pictures will be "The Crimson Challenge" with Dorothy Dalton and "In the Days of Buffalo Bill." Another change will occur Sunday.

American's Best-Loved—Most Popular Author—Acclaimed by the Whole Nation—Booth Tarkington who wrote that masterpiece of American life, "THE YIPPIE." Advertisement.

PREACH HELL-FIRE AND DAMNATION, IS GIMMESTAD'S PLEA

Speaking at a meeting of Lutheran ministers of Wisconsin and Illinois at Chicago, Wednesday, the Rev. L. M. Gimmestad, Orfordville, president of the conference, said the "world is hell bound and doesn't know it." Mr. Gimmestad declared that the church must go back more to the old fashioned hell fire and damnation type of sermons.

The Rev. T. C. Thorson, pastor of the Janesville First Lutheran church is attending the meetings.

"The world is fooling itself into the belief there is no hell," said Mr. Gimmestad. "It is the same thing as a judge warning a prisoner at his first offense of the lawfulness of a life in prison. The church must point out the wages of sin after death as the judge in this life."

GREEN ARROW SOAP cleans, made especially for the laundry, offer the same advantage. The formula is the same. Use for fine hands and fine fabrics.

3 Housewives in 4 with ugly red hands
 —strong soaps for dishwashing and laundry the reason—
 Your hands? Do they embarrass you—do you instinctively hide them when in company?
 Harsh, strong soaps, used in kitchen and laundry, are placing American women under the handicap of ugly hands.
 But you can now avoid them.
 We offer you soft and lovely hands, even though you do every bit of your work.

No soap-smart
 Green Arrow differs from old-time household soaps. From the harsh, hand-burning soaps which contain usually 25 to 50% silicate of soda, a strong adulterant, ruinous to skin texture, making hands rough and red.

Don't think your favorite soap is an exception. A chemical analysis of 28 "popular" laundry soaps disclosed "filler" in 27 of them. Green Arrow was the only exception.

Lovely hands for 5c per month
 Soap should not be figured by the bar but by the cost per month. Green Arrow is all pure soap. It costs a trifle more but lasts twice as long. Figured this way Green Arrow costs you less than 5c a month, extra. This is cheap insurance for the charm of well-kept hands.

Try a cake of Green Arrow today. Your grocer has it. Use it for one week. Then note the difference in your hands. That is all we ask.

Why Tell the World you do your own work?
 Rough, ugly hands tell a story to the world. A story of the kitchen, the laundry, the scrub bucket.
 Most women do housework. But few want to tell it to every chance acquaintance.
 Most laundry soaps contain 25 to 50% water glass. This adulterant, technically known as silicate of soda, is invariably accompanied by an excess of caustic. It is this "filler"—not soap—that ruins hands. Green Arrow is made with the precision of a toilet soap and is pure soap.
 Now you can have white and lovely hands regardless of how much kitchen work you do.
 For your hands and your clothes sake, go to your grocer and insist on buying GREEN ARROW.

LIONS ADMIT STORY OF STREET SIGNS WAS GREAT HOAX

Several members of the Lions club planned a "hoax" for a laugh at the expense of their brother members at the weekly meeting, Wednesday. The plan was to get the other members worried over $100 worth of street signs said to have been ordered by two members through a misunderstanding. It worked to perfection, so good in fact that members caught on even after it was all over. It was taken so seriously that the publicity chief of the Lions thought it was true.

But the program committee and others on the inside have had to come forward and admit it was a hoax, to glean the club's slap.

MILWAUKEE MAN BUYS FINBERG STOCK

The stock and fixtures of Samuel Finberg's Boston Sample Shoe store, 2 North Main street, was sold at auction Thursday morning to Max Pollock, Milwaukee, for $1,850. The stock was valued at $3,900.

The bidding was mostly between E. R. Winslow, Janesville, and Mr. Pollock. At the end of the sale Mr. Winslow bought the fixtures from Pollock for $150.

The buyer was given until February 20 to remove all stock free but after that date an arrangement will have to be made with O. S. Morse as to the amount of rent that will have to be paid. George Coffey has charge of the sale.

PLAN RADIO CONCERTS IN NEW AUDITORIUM

Richard Malone was chosen president of the Radio club of the high school at a meeting held Monday. John Taylor was vice-president and Charles Campbell, secretary. There are 12 members who hold weekly meetings.

While the radio has not yet been erected it is planned to perfect it soon so that concerts can be given in the auditorium. One of the rooms on the third floor, that just out as an ornament to the building from the outside, is the radio room.

Arranging a road building program so that the taxpayer and taxpayer will be the greatest beneficiary.
Traffic regulations that will reduce reckless driving and the number of deaths from auto accidents.

LOOKING INTO LEGISLATION.

It is appropriate that the merchants and business men should meet and discuss the questions of legislation proposed at Madison and which, to say the least, has been of a character generally not inspiring confidence. Hundreds of bills are always introduced into legislatures, and most of them never reach passage, which is an important thing and saves any and every state from being utterly foolish with burdensome, irritating or useless laws. There are a plenty of these at this session—more in fact than we have noted for some sessions past. The tendency to regulate everything under the sun is more emphasized by the legislature of 1923 than heretofore, because, in the wave of political triumph last fall, more assemblymen and senators with these paternalistic and half-indebted ideas of semi-socialism, were elected than ever before. Many of them must be credited with honesty of purpose and good intent. But gradually the program of the non-partisan league is being unfolded and measures to legalize that program are before the legislature. There is a grave danger to industry and business generally is deeply interested. At the dinner to be given in Janesville Friday night, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, these questions are to be discussed by a member of the state senate—Mr. Oscar Morris of Milwaukee. Janesville is deeply interested in these questions of legislation from more than one point of view. Labor is here vitally concerned in many bills which restrict and curtail the possibility of employment by attacks on industry.

Every measure that limits production also limits labor. We have seen one of the largest industries of the state remove its offices to another state because of the threat of danger. We are deeply concerned in Janesville over bills which would make the operations of the largest concern here less effective and employ fewer men or close up operations entirely. Janesville's future depends largely on the success of the Chevrolet plant and we should all be united—the merchant who sells to the consumer, the consumer who has to buy and who buys with wages, the house owner who rents or sells—every person in the city, in fact, is personally concerned in the success of the Chevrolet plant.

An old bill, killed at the last session of the legislature has been revived, making it unlawful to use paint spraying machines. That is a vital part of the assembling of the Chevrolet car, the painting and spraying is necessary, as it is the only way a cheap car can be produced. Every buyer of a car, every laborer, every merchant is interested in seeing that such a bill forbidding the spraying of paint is killed. Such a law serves no good purpose and instead of adding to the number of men employed would merely drive factories using such machines into other states where no such laws exist or are thought of. It has been settled once and for all that paint spraying is less injurious than spreading paint with a brush. It is the advocacy of laws such as this one, that brings criticism to legislative bodies. It also should spur men to organize to study these measures. That is what Friday night's meeting proposes to do.

While Russia is so ready to make war and furnish an army for most any cause one wonders why some of the money is not spent in aiding the starving peasants.

Prosperity has come to the Superior Telegram which occupies the largest field from the point of territory and square miles in Wisconsin. But it also is one of the best papers in the state and with its farm edition and the Sunday issues thoroughly covers its field. Recently it has moved into one of the best equipped and most complete newspaper plants in the state. The Telegram is worth a great deal to the people of Upper Wisconsin as a mirror of events and a vehicle of opinion.

The pity is that some of the 1200 bills in the legislature will become laws.

There is plenty of gas in the Ford presidential boom up to date but only a few filling stations on the road.

In these days there is much speculation as to what Lincoln would do were he alive now. It is a satisfactory sort of conjecture since each guesser is given that Lincoln would have believed and given support to whatever doctrine is upper-

Air No Longer to Be Free

By FREDERICK HASKIN

Washington.—Congress, before it adjourns in March, is expected to act to end the chaos which the phenomenal spread of the use of radio has created in the air. The government seems about to assert its eminent domain over the atmosphere, which, except for a few million landless birds during the past decade, has been free to all and unrestricted since men were on earth to make use of it. The Young bill, now pending before congress, embodies the consensus of expert opinion as to how the government can take control of the ether and schedule the communication that goes through it, parceling out concessions among the customers who apply.

Thus before the march of science crashes down another illusion. "As free as air" is one of mankind's oldest sayings, but now it seems that the air is not to be free any longer. Its use by wireless, at any rate, is to be licensed, and licenses will cost money. And it is quite possible that other uses will be taken off the free list. Already there is clamor that the government should make airplanes pay for using it, again by means of a license system; and with these precedents before it, what is to prevent the government, if the artificial barrier of nitrogen becomes widespread, from assessing the fixation plants for the air they consume as the raw material of their manufacture.

The old breathing concession may perhaps be regarded as inalienable, and it is quite likely that on sultry evenings one may permit the zenobia to tap his moist brow without payment of a royalty on the air consumed. Windmills can continue to fan the air currents without fee, and mariners may have it gratis for their sails; but the more modern uses of it are to be licensed and regulated. Seriously, however, there is great need today of a strict control of radio, as all are agreed and none more thoroughly so than the users of radio themselves. With more than 21,000 radio sending stations in operation in this country and with nothing to regulate them except club rules and cooperation, the air is becoming a beldam, and the users of wireless are suffering as a result. The present radio system will not work without direction at the head of it. Until it is managed and scheduled no receiving instruments, which the vast majority of users are most interested in, will give satisfaction, and the situation is steadily tending to become worse.

The city of Washington was recently treated to an exhibition of what happens in radio when two broadcasting stations cease to cooperate with each other. An eminent divine of the capital city had for some weeks been broadcasting his Sunday evening sermons. Another divine, equally eminent, decided also to broadcast his and proceeded to do so—on the same wave length. The result in the receiving instruments may be imagined. Neither person would give way to the other and for several Sunday evenings the ether palpitated with simultaneous sequences, until finally the sermons of independent leaders, written to be heard by the ears of the clergyman to yield.

A more serious occurrence was reported to the committee which acted favorably upon the Young bill. In Philadelphia there is a wealthy radio amateur who at a cost of $10,000 or more has equipped his own broadcasting station. This man, a witness before the committee declared, happened to dislike the denomination of a Philadelphia preacher who was Sunday night sermons being broadcasted regularly. This person, therefore, would seize upon the pauses in the preacher's discourse as opportunities for himself to inject his own comments, most of them flippant and some even profane.

No such interferences as these can occur when the Young bill becomes law. The pending legislation is the outcome of the radio conference called last year by Secretary of Commerce Hoover. The growth of radio was emphasized in that meeting, but it is even greater now. There are today 550 general broadcasting stations, and one estimate is that receiving sets have been installed by 2,500,000 persons. The conference did not recommend, and the pending legislation does not provide, any regulation of receiving sets, although careless manipulation of oscillating receivers may set up interference. One witness before the house committee said that there is more such interference in the vicinity of Boston than any place else he has visited.

The radio conference recommended that the waves be assigned the various sending services in bands, the total possible wave lengths, namely from 100 meters to 6,000 meters, to be divided into 21 bands, namely, the 485-495-meter, the 550-750-meter and 1,050-1,500-meter bands. With one exception the pending legislation would write none of these concessions into the law itself, but would give the secretary of commerce wide discretionary powers in administering the use of radio, recognizing that the art is developing so rapidly that it would be futile to write restrictions into rigid law.

The exception is the wave band granted to amateurs for their private sending. The amateur band, which cannot be changed except by changing the law, is from 150 to 275 meters. This provision will supersede the present law which grants to the amateurs the exclusive use of the 200-meter wave length only.

The recommendation of the conference, which will undoubtedly be followed by the secretary of commerce when the Young bill becomes a law, allocates wave bands to such radio enterprises as trans-oceanic experiments, "oil" broadcasting, ships, radio beacons, aircraft, radio compass, marine radio telephones, public safety broadcasting, technical and training schools, and also several bands for government broadcasting. Each of these services will have undisputed use of its own band. No room in the ether is assigned to advertising, and it is to be forbidden in the bands assigned to general broadcasting.

The bill itself provides that all transmitting stations, except government stations, whether amateur or commercial, must have licenses granted by the department of commerce, and that the operators must take out licenses. Allans are forbidden licenses. Licenses, too, are to be refused to persons or corporations who undertake to set up monopolies in wireless. The bill provides that the secretary of commerce be aided by an advisory committee of 15 members.

A system of fees is set up in the bill. For stations of the largest sort the license will cost $300 annually. Fees will then grade down to the restricted amateur's license, which will cost $2.50 per annum. Operators' licenses will cost from 50 cents to $2.50 per annum, depending on its kind, and the government will also make a charge for examinations on which the licenses are granted.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE INSPIRATION OF THE PAST.
When melancholy rides the sky and fills
The distance with her dust of gloom and doubt
And from despair there seems no gateway out;
When the cold blast of disappointment chills
The green young buds of hope, and the once rosy hills
Stand gaunt, forbidding battlements too stout
For faltering strength to master, ere it kills.
Faith in high purpose, turn your tale about.
Such the great past the ages have given,
Pause and reflect by some remembered grave;
At Valley Forge once more with Washington
Learn what it means to suffer and be brave.
Or stand with patient Lincoln, and believe
That what is right its purpose shall achieve.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

CONFESSIONS OF A CYNIC.
I am never able to make the slightest sense out of what they call "good poetry."
I don't think I will ever realize my ambition to find out why a woman always says: "I wonder who that is?" whenever the telephone rings.
I don't know how some people manage to support automobiles when they get one-half my salary.
I have never got a handful of fresh peanuts from any vending machine in any railroad station.
I have never been able to find out, in my whole life, how it is that the homely men generally cop the beautiful wives.

I don't believe that any man who lets the vampires alone will ever have any trouble with them.
I have never had any difficulty in understanding Einstein's theory for the reason that I have never tried it.
I wear soft collars, not because I like them better than hard collars, but because a lot of cake-eaters have told me that I can't.

I have given up the habit of knocking people about like I did the twenty-five years to find out that it didn't do them any harm.
I have read of the wonderful doings of the smart set for years and am still satisfied not to belong to it.
I never make up my mind about a public question until I hear what Henry Ford and Dr. Edison think about it.

Many a man goes into the United States senate full of hope, and after laboring there for several years comes out full of despair.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Federal Government.

NO. 14.

Traveling expenses. Including the entire amount expended for meals and lodging while away from home, are deductible items when the trip is on business. On a journey for other than business purposes, railroad fares are personal expenses and the cost of meals and lodging are living expenses. Therefore, they are not deductible.

If a salesman is not reimbursed by his employer for his traveling expenses, or if employed on a commission basis with no expense allowance, his traveling expenses may be deducted from gross income. If he receives a salary and is repaid his traveling expenses, he should include in his return of gross income the amount of repayment and may deduct such expenses.

A salesman receiving a salary and an allowance for meals and lodging should include the allowance in gross income, from which may be deducted the cost of meals and lodging. Only such traveling expenses are "reasonable and necessary" in the conduct of business as may be deducted. Examples are payments for the use of a sample room, or the hire of vehicles in visiting customers.

Traveling expenses and deductions must attach to his income tax return a statement showing the nature of the business in which engaged, number of days away from home on account of business, and the total amount of expenses incident to travel.

Suburbanites who commute daily from their homes to their places of business are not permitted to deduct the cost of transportation, it being a personal expense.

Who's Who Today

REV. DR. HERBERT HENRY ASQUITH

Though labor has a clear majority over both liberal parties combined, Herbert Asquith, despite all his reverses, has a larger following today than his successor, Lloyd George. It is the popular belief in England that if Liberalism is not to disappear it will have to scrap its differences and present a united front at the next elections. Asquith is the man to facilitate such an arrangement, but it is of London school. There he won a scholarship to Balliol, at Oxford Asquith swept the board clean of scholastic prizes and left a mark of being the greatest pleasure man normal in all things except in the sweep of his mind. It was as a lawyer that he first acquired public notice.

He was admitted to the bar in 1876, when he was twenty-four years old. He served as secretary of state for the home department from 1892 to 1895. For the three years following he was chancellor of the exchequer. In 1914 he became secretary of state for the colonies and in 1915 he was prime minister and first lord of the treasury from 1908 to 1915.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

Feb. 15, 1883.—First, Court and Second street hills are crowded every hour of the day with sliders. For the first time in more than a month, water did not freeze on the city's main sewer built in the upper court house park for emergency use of firemen is serving its purpose and it was discovered yesterday that ice had not even formed on it.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Feb. 15, 1893.—F. M. Marshall now communicates with his shoe factory by means of telephone, his residence at 304 South Jackson street, and the factory being connected with the central telephone office. Janesville's number 32 on the charter, started an Elks lodge in this city last night. Ogden H. Fethers is exalted ruler.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Feb. 15, 1903.—Young ladies who have waited on table at Twilight club this year were entertained with a dinner at the M. C. Hotel last night by Mrs. C. D. Child and Mrs. J. C. Kilpe. A military funeral was held for C. E. Bowles this afternoon. A big dynamo is being installed at the Monterey plant of the Janesville Electric company.

TEN YEARS AGO

Feb. 15, 1913.—Janesville high school had an easy game with Jefferson last night, winning 59 to 9. Moose roller polo team lost its game to the Racine team last night at the rink, 5 to 1. Superintendent of Schools C. E. Hildreth was to attend the state convention in Madison next week. The Myers theater will show the Rainey pictures of travel in Africa for three days next week.

SODIUM CITRATE
Citrate of soda was formerly used in the preparation of colic pills for infants feeding. The fashion in milk modification changes often than the fashions of skirts. So milk of magnesia, which was once a common water, successively came into use. Instead of sodium citrate. I mention this to show how harmless is this old domestic medicine. A whole ounce of it is allowed at one dose, and certainly a dose of salts; in fact the French formerly advocated the use of citrate of soda as a saline laxative.

Sodium citrate in the medicine cupboard has two purposes. Suppose some member of the family has a young boy or a runaround or some such infection and is fond of lambing, hence unwilling to seek medical attention. A poultice on the inflamed area of the neck and a dose of the citrate will do the trick. The citrate will do the trick.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
The public in a high school were told by the authorities some time ago that the itch was in the school and were cautioned to be careful. I suppose the building was contaminated during the holidays but a physician told me that the itch might even be taken by touching the door of a school. I am not all advised to take some precaution as to door knobs outside of the room families? And said it's not a boon to those attending the school if you would publish a method of curing the itch? (A Mother.)

Answer.—To caution pupils to "be careful" is a very old remedy. I have furnished the schoolroom and remind us of the mother who told her darling child to be careful of the door knob. Scabies (the itch) is due to a mite easily visible to the eye; articles of clothing, caps and hair, combs, brushes, caps and hair, combs, and the like may and often do harbor the mite for hours or days after the individual with the itch has used them. This explains how readily infection occurs after cure. Intelligently, it is not to be attempted to publish a method of treatment, for it is the duty of the physician to supervise the use of a medicine. It would be no boon but only a source of vexation if I were to attempt to publish a method by which to cure the itch. Besides, conditions which pass for the itch may be very different from the itch. On the other hand a great many victims of the itch imagine they have scabies when it is only a skin irritation, for there is a mistaken popular notion that the itch prevails only in the winter months. It is quite common; many of the children of the poor are afflicted with the sleeping sickness, whereof the case is often mistaken. Only family of one child and two children are often severely afflicted with the itch while their very healthy and popular doctor pines for the cure. The doctor's duty would be to clear the urine acid out of their systems. By accident they come under the observation of an obscure young doctor who naturally didn't know scabies, but he knew scabies and he knew the remedy. He was able to apply a fine winter's practice for the extended family physician, the whole history of scabies is a story of unnecessary misery due to ignorance, diagnostic ignorance on the part of the physician and the patient's ignorance of the patient's part to that blissful ignorance which inspires self-treatment.

Dinner Stories

In a divorce case the counsel of the lady plaintiff pleaded among other reasons incompatibility of temper, and described the husband's character as "brutal, violent, passionate," etc.

The husband's counsel then arose in his turn and represented the lady as being: "Spiteful, angry, waspish," "I beg your pardon," interrupted the judge, "but, gentlemen, I really don't quite see where the incompatibility of temper comes in."—Weekly Telegraph (London).

One of the daughters of an American man of letters possesses literary gifts, and also has a genius for critical biography. She had her first poem accepted by a magazine and was excited.

"Now," said she, "there will be two concealed persons in the family."—American Legion Weekly.

Benjamin Washington was up before the city recorder for being drunk. The judge looked at him for a moment and said: "You have been up here for being drunk. Benjamin, twice, and seeing you are an old man, I am going to let you off with a fine of $5. Now see that you don't come up here again. It's the road if you do."

The old negro thanked him and walked out of the court room.

The next morning Benjamin was up in court again for being drunk. His case was called. The judge looked at him reprovingly and remarked:

"Benjamin, I told you not to come up here again and here you are. Have you anything to say?"

The old negro looked up and replied: "No sah, judge, only dat dis am do same drunk."

Evansville—The Methodist Men's club will have charge of the evening service at the Methodist church Sunday. Special music and short addresses by several men will be features. The public is invited.

BUSINESS IS QUIET.
Evansville—The town business of Evansville this week is quiet. The cold wave is thought to be the cause. One drug store reported that the best business done in four years was done last Saturday.

A Rare Chance for Readers

It was said recently that "nothing is so much needed today in the rehabilitation of the broken world as a faith that still holds toward a higher, diviner goal, than mere social and economic adjustment—things that are purely physical and temporal." Down through the centuries, through wars and the ages, the word of the Bible is the link that has held men and nations to the "faith in the higher and diviner goal."

Perhaps no edition of the Bible has ever attained such widespread popularity as has the Big Print Red Letter Edition now being offered to readers of this paper. It is of so convenient a size that it is not bulky, still the type is so clear that old people, or those having defective sight, can easily read it. The outstanding red lettering of the words of Christ make it very simple to find his thoughts without reference to indexes and concordances.

This paper is able to offer this edition in two distinct styles, with but three daily coupons and a nominal distribution fee. Distribution starts on the third day, but attention is called to the fact that the supply is limited. See coupon in another column. —Advertisement.

TRIBUTES PAID TO GREAT EMANCIPATOR

In him was vindicated the greatness of real goodness and the goodness of real greatness. There are men as good as he but they do bad things. There are men as intelligent as he but they do foolish things. In him goodness and intelligence combined and made their best results of wisdom. —Phillips Brooks.

In Lincoln there was always some quality that fastened him to the people and taught them to keep time to the music of his heart. —David Swing.

Amid the political high places of the times, the corruption in high places, the dictatorial culture, the vapors of wild and hopeless theorists, in this swamp of political quagmire, O Lincoln, it is refreshing to think of thee. —H. A. Deane.

A power was his beyond the touch of fire.
Or armed strength—his pure and mighty heart. —Gilder.

Lincoln was the greatest figure of the heroic civil war. He is the greatest memory of our world. —Ingersoll.

He was the sum of Puritan and Cavalier, for in his ardent nature were fused the virtues of both, and in the depths of his great soul, the faults of both were lost. He was greater than Puritan, greater than Cavalier, in that he was American, and that in his lonely form were first gathered the vast and thrilling forces of this ideal government. —Henry W. Grady.

Great captains with their guns and drums
"Blow your judgment for the hour,
But at last silence comes;
These are all gone, and standing I take a tower.
Our children shall behold this fame,
The kindly earnest, brave, foreseeing man,
Sagacious, patient, dreaming.

Baker Directors Are Re-Elected

Evansville—The Baker Mfg. company had election of officers for the year Monday night, and directors were re-elected. A good year was reported at the annual meeting and prospects are bright.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

When interviewed Wednesday night on the progress of the two bands in the Evansville high school, Principal E. O. Evans said: "Great interest is shown in the band work, there being 26 in the senior band and 12 in the junior outfit. More are inquiring about starting daily."

The junior class of the high school will present a play called "The Bob," Feb. 23, in the school house.

Illness in the schools is making a record for itself this winter. Sixty were absent from the high school and 100 from the grades Wednesday, while 175 were vaccinated for smallpox. Most of the illness is caused by colds and "flu."

Evansville high school basketball team will play Teedsburg at Evansville, Saturday night. A tough game is expected.

DR. CASE SPEAKER BEFORE MEN'S CLUB

Evansville—The Methodist Men's club had a banquet in the parlors of the church Tuesday night. There were 42 high guests and dinner was served by the Ladies Aid society. Following the dinner a program of music, speaking and readings was rendered. William Ames entertained with two piano selections. Phil Pearsall gave two vocal solos. The speaker of the evening was the Rev. R. F. Case of Janesville, who spoke on "The Building of a Man." At the close of the address the Rev. and Mrs. Manuman sang a duet, after which Dr. Case gave three readings.

24 BADGER CITIES BAR CARNIVALS

Janesville Is One of Seven Having High Daily License Fee.

Janesville is one of a small percentage of Wisconsin cities which still allow traveling carnival companies to show under a high license fee, according to a survey just received by Mayor J. W. Wilson from the American Chamber of Commerce. The report shows 57 per cent of the 42 cities listed prohibit carnivals on general principles, 23 per cent allow them to come in and pay a license fee, and 20 per cent allow them to show under a high license.

Although in recent years there has been some effort to clamp the lid down on allowing carnival companies to show here, the license ordinance still exists. Nevertheless several have escaped paying it by coming under auspices of some local lodge or organization. The proposition is entirely up to the city council.

The American survey lists the following cities as high license towns for carnivals: Ashland, $300 a day; Beloit, $125; Green Bay, $100; Hurley, $200; Janesville, $50 to $100, depending on number of cars; Milwaukee, $100; Sheboygan, $50 a day; Stevens Point, $100.

The following cities prohibit carnivals on general principles, the report states: Antigo, Appleton, Beaver Dam, Berlin, Chippewa Falls, Col umbus, Eau Claire, Fond du Lac, Fort Atkinson, Hartford, Janesville, Kenosha, Manitowish, Menomonee, Milwaukee, Marinette, Neenah, Oshkosh, Sturgeon Bay, Watertown, Waupun, Wausau, Waupun and Wisconsin Dells.

These cities allow them under permit: Baraboo, De Pere, Kenosha, La Crosse, Portage, Racine, Rhinelander, Richland Center and Wauchesa.

Sand and Gravel Opens Big Yard in Milwaukee

Janesville Sand and Gravel company has decided to open another yard in the city of Milwaukee on property owned by the company and purchased for this purpose several years ago.

The company already is operating two yards in Milwaukee, one on the north side and one on the south side. The new yard will be the largest of the three and will be equipped in the most modern method for unloading and storing sand and gravel. The estimated cost of this yard is $100,000.

U. S. Could Live Without Imports

Information on boycotts on a national scale, and on the way to still further details on city manager form of government, certain books and on finger-prints was given out by Frederick J. Haskin of the Gazette Information Bureau at Washington, D. C., last week, in addition to performing the usual service to Gazette readers of issuing booklets on a wide variety of topics.

"The United States undoubtedly by her geographic, economic, agricultural and industrial position is better fitted than any nation in the world to be entirely self-supporting in the event of a boycott by the rest of the world, and except for a short time, little hardship would be experienced," said Haskin. "It would be practically impossible at the present time, however, for such a boycott to be enforced, since practically every civilized nation is a debtor of the United States."

Chiropractor Bill Introduced

Madison—A bill requiring a state license by chiropractors before they may practice in Wisconsin and compelling every chiropractor now in the state to secure a license, was introduced in the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature today by Assemblyman Elihu D. Miner, Sr. of Croix county.

The governor would be empowered to create a board of chiropractic examiners consisting of three regular and practicing chiropractors to examine applicants for licenses. The measure is to protect the people of the state from the services of untrained and unlicensed chiropractors, according to Mr. Miner, as only graduates of reputable schools of chiropractic with at least a high school education should be permitted to take the examination for license.

Chiropractors, under the bill, would also be bound by all general health laws of the state in so far as their practice is affected.

GREAT CEMENT PLANT PLANNED FOR STATE

Milwaukee—Backed by $2,000,000 of Wisconsin capital, a huge cement plant capable of supplying the entire need of the state has been erected at Manitowish, and a second plant at Milwaukee, if plans now under discussion here are completed.

A meeting of the new Wisconsin state, the cement shortage due to lack of rail transportation caused huge losses last year to the state and contractors.

CUPID GIVES ONLY ONE VALENTINE HERE

St. Valentine's day brought but one real valentine to a Rock county woman, for it was a cold, dreary day, and but one was brave enough to come to the county bureau cupid conducted in the court house. Fred Atwin, Epiton township, applied for a marriage license for himself and Elsie Pinnow, Evansville. It was license No. 23. On Tuesday, the 13th, application for a license was made by William Ross, Avon, and Blanche T. Lee, Spring Valley.

Mrs. Mendl Has Gained 16 Pounds

Milwaukee Lady Declares Tanlac Fully Overcame Nervousness, Indigestion and Weakness.

"Tanlac has given me such a wonderful appetite and fine digestion that I have actually gained sixteen pounds," recently declared Mrs. Alice Mendl, highly esteemed resident of 465 Seventh St., Milwaukee, Wis.

"The medicine certainly lifted a great weight from my mind, for I was in a nervous condition. I had nervous indigestion and everything disagreed with me and at times I nearly suffocated from gas on my stomach. I was hardly eating anything and slept so restlessly that I got up mornings feeling miserable. I had headaches and pains in my back, too, and felt worn out all day long."

"But after I had taken three bottles of Tanlac treatment, the indigestion, nervousness and other ailments disappeared entirely, and I was feeling as healthy and happy as ever. I have plenty of strength and energy now and I'm eating, sleeping and feeling just fine. To my last day I will feel grateful to Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clipped Up Kidney Deposits Are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Sold to Guarantee It in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys, so what ever you do, don't neglect them." Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 777 (known for years as Blushroot) is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge you to try it if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or burning, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bleeding, irritability with loss of flesh, or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be starting upon you. Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription. It is obtainable in bottle, liquid and tablet form. If you have any of the above symptoms, Kidney and Bladder troubles don't leave you. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily, and with unfailing certainty. If you even suspect that you are subject to kidney disease, don't lose a single day, for People's Drug Co. and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first big bottle to all who state they have received no benefit. —Advertisement.

MOTHERS, DO THIS—

When the Children Cough, Rub Musterole on Throats and Chests.

No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt relief. It does not blister.

As first aid, Musterole is excellent. Thousands of mothers know it. Keep a jar ready for instant use. It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frostbite, fever, colds or the chest (it may prevent pneumonia). 35c and 65c jars and tubes. Better than a mustard plaster.

Attendance at Schools Cut by Cold Weather

Wednesday's intense cold and windy weather raised the absence list at the high school, which according to Prin. W. W. Brown and V. E. Klotz, in charge of the attendance, has been kept moderately low this winter in spite of many colds. Absence Wednesday was more among the younger pupils, many of them staying out because of the weather and not because of illness.

The average attendance at the old building, when 300 were in school, was 25 daily, and figures since the new high school has been entered are, as yet, unobtainable, although the increased attendance, it now being 1,187, and the increase of the small epidemic colds and slight cases of influenza, has of course made the average absence much higher. "Considering the record made in other schools this winter, I feel that the absence has been kept low," said Mr. Brown, mentioning some of the other schools in the state which had been forced to close because of illness. "Much of this record, at least in the last two weeks, is due to the additional air and room available in this new building. If we were 'now in the old building, I would look on the matter with some trepidation."

Through the system of attendance checking being inaugurated, absence is easily discovered and the cause soon found. Although efforts are made to keep the absence low, Prin. Brown has urged the pupils to use their common-sense and stay home if they are ill, for their own good and the good of others in contact with them.

COMIC VALENTINES HOLD POPULARITY LEAD THIS YEAR
Robinson Crusoe, Old Mother Hubbard, Little Red Riding Hood, the bowerly girl and a stately colonial dame carved someone "as their valentine as they languished in the local stationery stores. Wednesday, Robinson Crusoe, Old Mother Hubbard, Little Red Riding Hood, the bowerly girl and the stately colonial dame established themselves in the homes of Janesville folks, making them a wee bit sentimental as they tipped open the envelopes that enclosed these novel valentines. The custom of sending anonymous notes on the highway of St. Valentine, Feb. 14, is as old and favorite one, which does not seem to be thwarted by modern unconventionality. True, in olden times, the maiden blushed furiously when some unknown suitor declared his love by means of a cupid embossed card, but much chivalry usually brought the lover to light.

Valentines for today are up to the minute in their appeal. Instead of a Rungel-strumming cupid decorated mandolin in the bowerly girl's hand, a dashing, brawny brummel is pictured, leading his lady on a powerfully built automobile with a heart as the steering wheel.

The lady forget-me-not booklets were in the market this year and found favor with some, but it is the caricature card, bearing some sassy clause that was the most popular this season. This is merely complying with the changed mores of love-making, the sort which boasts of no broken hearts of cold maidens and bold lecherers.

But beneath this veneer must be some sentiment, judging from the heavy packs of local mill-mill-mill. Young and old carved cards and valentine remembrances. "All the world loves a lover" and even though every one hasn't a lover, every body in the whole wide world has a valentine, one who it is dreamed will come riding, some day.

MINOR ACTIONS ARE STARTED IN COURT
Two minor actions were started in the Rock county circuit court Tuesday.

James Zanias, Janesville, is suing to recover $428 on a note of Phillip Kenney, due Nov. 13, 1922.

A mortgage foreclosure action has been started by B. O. Orsward against Guterm O. Roen and Clara Roen.

London—A Renter dispatch from Duesseldorf said two policemen were arrested and charged with setting fire to a barn in which French troops were billeted.
